The main aims of DevOps 2016

-  to improve devops process on high level
-  to attract attention a large number of professional engineers to devops

How we plan to achieve it:

-  We would like to combine SPACE team's organizing skills and some major companies as Partners and make the Conference with free entrance or minimal ticket price for participants
-  We'll release series of articles devoted to devops: interviews on dev.by, technical articles (on dev.by and other portals)
-  We gather best professionals to share knowledge and values of well-crafted software, the best devops practices of leading belarusian companies and the best tools for devops professionals

Conference Details

- We are looking for speakers from devops leading companies in Belarus. If you have enthusiasts at your company, please fill the application form
- We are looking for Company-Partners for financial contribution to provide the free attendance in order to have more participants
- We plan that DevOpsBy 2016 will consist of one track with 8-10 speakers
- We expect the attendance of 150 participants (devops profs and new followers)
- We hope community will continue discussion and networking at Afterparty

Partner Details

$2000

We would like to share the financial organizing costs between SPACE and a few Company Partners. In return partners will get:

- Welcome word is given by company representative during the opening of the conference and/or its closing
- Company can add speaker to conference's program
- Place for the company networking spot (the place for visitors to be acquainted with the products and communicate with representing experts)
- Company name and/or logo is listed in all the materials, announcements as Co-organizing Partner
- Company name will be mentioned in Mailing Campaign as Co-organizing Partner
- Company logo will be placed on the web page of the conference
- Company logo will be placed on the badges and schedule-brochures of the participants
- Roll-up or banner with the company's logo at the event venue
- Any materials or gifts provided by the company can be presented to the participants
- Any activities can be provided by the partner to the participants (games, contests, lottery etc.)
- We welcome your ideas to be added to the package!
